Thanksgiving dinner offered in the spirit of the original feast

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

As the story goes, the Pilgrims invited the Indians to sit and share in the bounties of the fall harvest and together they offered thanks for food, friends and home.

Here in Bay St. Louis, the Scarborough family reminds us that the first feast was a community of people.

For the sixth year, the Scarborough family is offering a free Thanksgiving dinner to their community, and all are invited.

According to the Scarboroughs, the dinner began as an idea seven years ago when they owned and operated "C's Restaurant" along Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

"There were a lot of people that came into the restaurant that day," said Sally Kelly, Beth Scarborough's mother, "who had no one with whom to share a Thanksgiving meal."

"Many restaurants were closed on Thanksgiving. There were people traveling through town because of work and there were people without family."

"We thought, wouldn't it be wonderful to have a dinner open to all people, where everyone could enjoy a hot meal and the companionship that makes Thanksgiving unique."

So, Kelly, her daughter and other members of the family opened the restaurant that following Thanksgiving to the

Dockside update

Bayou Caddy progressing slowly

BY TRACI BONNEY

Bayou Caddy Casino is quietly, slowly making progress.

Contrary to recent misunderstandings, the proposed Bayou Cadet dockside gambling establishment is being developed by George Baxter, Al Bishop and John Kingsbury.

Baxter explained that some confusion has arisen about Bayou Caddy among people who have contacted him. He said some residents have evidently been led to believe that Bayou Caddy was denied site approval for its planned facility.

"Bayou Caddy Casino hasn't even requested site approval yet," he stated. "We have finished the first phase of engineering and an oceanographic study has been completed. Our attorneys have prepared the documents for us to apply for a gaming license and we plan to submit those documents in time for the Gaming Commission's December meeting."

State Gaming Commission director Royal Walker Jr. explained the cause of the confusion.

"Early in the year, Terry Ladner asked approval for a site at Bayou Cadet (west of the Bayou Caddy site). That site was disapproved by the commission, then operating under the Tax Commission."

"When I came on board, Ladner's attorneys said they had additional information they wanted to present. The Gaming Commission agreed to rehear the site approval application."

"In September, the commission heard Ladner's attorneys, and at the October meeting, the commission announced that it intended to stand by its initial decision to disapprove the site."

At that meeting, according to Baxter, it was announced that the "Bayou Caddy" site had been disapproved, thus causing the mix-up about Bayou Caddy Casino's supposed site disapproval.

Walker further said that some people evidently believe the Gaming Commission compares possible sites when deciding which ones to approve or disapprove, from what he has heard during recent phone calls.

"I want to make sure people understand that we look at each site on its own merits."

Harrison commission plans gaming study

BY TRACI BONNEY

Harrison County is considering the economic feasibility of dockside gambling.

Harrison County Development Commission president Joe Sal-loum Jr. announced recently that the economic development organization will complete an economic and fiscal feasibility analysis on casino gaming in the county by mid-January.

The commission has contracted with Fox Consulting, a firm with more than 15 years of experience in economic analysis, to perform the study. Dr. Bill Eadington, a gaming consultant with the Institute for the Study of Gambling at the University of Nevada, recommended Fox Consulting to the commission.

Fox is expected to conduct an objective economics feasibility analysis of casino gambling in Harrison County, providing for estimates on the economic and fiscal impacts of gambling facilities on both the public and private sectors.

Michael Olivier, executive director of the commission, stated, "The Development Commission is pleased to provide this service to the citizens of Harrison County so that we can all take a long hard look at the economic impact of gaming. The study will also attempt to analyze any potential negative effects of gaming being introduced into the county, including the impact on convention business, the ability to recruit new businesses and industries, the impact on the local labor market and any potential impact on existing industry."

Indian traditions

Coast Episcopal Elementary student Danielle May reaches for a brush while Anna Smith paints an Indian symbol onto the covering of a teepee. In celebration of Thanksgiving, students K-3 learned of American Indian customs. Following study on the history and purpose of various cultural activities, students were given the opportunity for hands on experience, including decoration of totem poles and games in which they raced as bears, rabbits and deer. White replaces Bourgeois

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Jannette White, a second-grade teacher at Gulfview will replace Myrna Bourgeois as assistant principal of the elementary school as of Tuesday.

White was Gulfview's Teacher of the Year for 1990-91 and is a 1970 Bay High School graduate. This will be her first administrative appointment in 14 years of education experience.

The Hancock County School Board approved the appointment of White on the same day that Bourgeois' resignation as assistant principal became effective.

Bourgeois will assume the office of school district superintendent in January, replacing four-term incumbent Terrell Randolph.

Donnie Gholston, an English teacher at the high school, was appointed to the position of assistant principal for both the junior and senior high schools.

Randolph said, "Gholston's position will primarily address discipline needs at the schools. This is a new position and is intended as a help for the two principals."

Gholston has a master's degree in secondary education administration from Mississippi State University.

Parent Sam Ladner requested permission to donate live oak trees for planting on the junior/senior high school campus.

Ladner said he would assist the school Beta Club with the transplanting of the 20-30 trees which were to be removed from his property during the next few weeks.

As Tuesday's meeting was a special meeting, a formal motion permitting the offer was withheld until the December scheduled board meeting.

The board approved a motion whereby advertisement for the purchase of two diesel storage tanks was permitted for price comparison purposes.

In other business the board approved the December 31 resignation of Charles Duffie, a teacher at Hancock High School.

Thanksgiving Day

Dates, menus change while intent endures

BY TRACI BONNEY

For most people, the phrase "Thanksgiving Day" brings to mind the traditional turkey dinner with family and friends. But few people realize just how old the custom of thanksgiving is.

The idea of giving thanks is as ancient as is worship of a God. For as long as people have inhabited the earth, they have given tribute to whatever deity they believed in for everything beneficial.

In this country, the Pilgrims had no designated yearly Thanksgiving Day. Their Thanksgivings were religious in nature, a response to special acts of kindness from God.

The observance of a Thanksgiving Day gradually spread throughout the New England colonies, then the rest of the Atlantic seaboard.

President George Washington declared the first national Thanksgiving Day in 1782. For nearly a century after, each president proclaimed a Thanksgiving Day when he perceived a reason for a day of prayer, such as the victory of the colonial militia over the British soldiers in the Revolutionary War.

In fact, George Bush followed this custom earlier this year when he declared a national day of thanksgiving prayer following the end of the Persian Gulf war.

However, from 1816 to 1862, no such proclamation was

St. Vincent de Paul distributes baskets

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
 St. Vincent de Paul Society members hit the streets of Hancock County this week spreading nourishment of body and heart to many needy families.
 The Our Lady of the Gulf Church-based chapter of the society collected 269 bags of food which was distributed to 87 families, while the St. Clare Church-based group delivered to 85 families.
 The food was gathered through parishioner contributions at the two Catholic churches and distributed by Our Lady of the Gulf Christian Youth Organization and St. Vincent de Paul Youth Conference members.

Hi Darling,
 Three long years have come and gone since God called you home and left us all so alone. The holidays are sad without you. Seems there's always something missing. You wanted a new baby in the family. Now we have three little new sweethearts, one grandson and two great-grandchildren, plus the other eight who miss you very much.

We all love and miss you so much. The years are so long without you. Hope some day we'll meet again.

Thanksgiving

In 1863, the customary proclamation was resumed when Abraham Lincoln set the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. He followed the precedent set by Washington and established the customary date for the holiday.

There have been only three deviations from the traditional date. Andrew Johnson, in his first year in office, declared the first Thursday in December to be Thanksgiving Day; Ulysses S. Grant, in his first year as President, proclaimed the date to be the third Thursday in November. However, both men returned to the date set by Lincoln in the remaining years of their terms.

The third man to flout tradition was Franklin D. Roosevelt. At the urging of merchants, he issued his proclamation in 1939, setting the third Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

This enraged a great number of people, such as football coaches who had scheduled their Thanksgiving Day games on the last Thursday of the month.

Roosevelt persisted in declaring the same date in 1940, but there was such an outcry of anger and confusion that he reverted to the customary date.

The first Thanksgiving feast, held by Pilgrims and Native Americans, set the menu for the traditional Thanksgiving Day meal. However, it was more extensive than most folks realize.

The 50 Pilgrims and 90 Native Americans enjoyed a spread that included five deer, turkeys, wild geese and ducks, lobster, clams, eels, oysters, fish, dried fruits, wine and whiskey, biscuits and bread, corn and possibly even popcorn balls.

public and served their first free Thanksgiving dinners.

They continued the practice for another year before giving up the restaurant which stood where the now deserted Frost Drive-in stands.

American Legion Post 139 on Green Meadow Road was kind enough to lend us the use of their building the year we closed the restaurant," related Kelly. "This will be the fourth year we will serve Thanksgiving dinner at Post 139."

The Scarborough family primarily solicits food donations from local grocery stores, but as the years have passed, various merchants and private citizens have assisted with contributions.

"Last year," reported Kelly, "we served 175 dinners. There were families and couples along with individuals, who came to share in the meal."

"We had enough food to serve 300 dinners, so we took the left over food to the Salvation Army in Gulfport where we knew it would be appreciated."

Kelly said the dinner will be sliced turkey roast, gravy, stuffing, whipped potatoes, a vegetable, salad, roll, desert and ice tea or coffee.

"We try to make enough cupcakes so everyone will have a desert, but we welcome donated pies and cakes. If anyone wishes to bring a desert they can drop it off at the American Legion Post that morning or bring it with them when they come for dinner."

"Second servings are offered for those who come and eat with us. We have to-go plates for neighbors who are unable to come, or for anyone who would prefer to eat at home."

The main thing is for the people to feel welcome and to leave happy."

The Scarborough family will begin serving today at 11 a.m. and will continue until there is either no more food or no more people.

"I would like to see us run out of food," added Kelly. "I would like many more people to come this year. We have the food and would love the company."

Wal-Mart offers % of sales to Food Pantry

On Friday, Nov. 29, a percentage of total net sale from 7-10 a.m. will be donated to the Hancock County Food Pantry, a local non-profit organization. Wal-Mart Stores across the company's trade area territory are participating in this program.

"Associates of the Waveland Wal-Mart Store are proud to assist those less fortunate in our community," said Marilyn Bullington, local Wal-Mart Store manager.

In addition to the donation of the percentage of sales, monies raised from in-store events will also be donated to the Hancock County Food Pantry.

"By choosing to shop early Friday morning," said Bullington, "our customers can directly contribute and help fulfill wishes in their own community."

"Wal-Mart associates work year round to support community projects and give back to the communities we service," said David Glass, Wal-Mart president and chief executive officer. "However, during this time of year, special emphasis is placed on sharing and caring in the true spirit of Christmas giving."

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Today marks Thanksgiving Day for Americans. As Americans, we have so many things to be thankful for, especially the many freedoms we have.

Today is a day for which many folks go out of their way in order to help others.

Many Thanksgiving baskets have been given out to needy families, and other acts of kindnesses are shown to those who are less fortunate.

This will be the sixth year that Beth Scarborough and her mother, Sally Kelly, will be serving a free community Thanksgiving dinner.

When the family owned C's Restaurant, they found many persons in the area did not have anyone to share Thanksgiving with. They started serving a dinner for anyone who wanted to attend.

The dinner today is open to individuals, families and friends, and anyone who wants to come.

The meal will be served at American Legion Post No. 139's home on Green Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis, from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. or until the food runs out.

The menu includes sliced turkey roast, gravy, stuffing, whipped potatoes, a vegetable, salad, roll, dessert and iced tea or coffee.

Just as the Legion donates the use of its building for the dinner, food donations come from merchants, and various businesses and private citizens help with cash donations.

Last year the Legion served 175 dinners and had enough food for 300, but the food did not go to waste. It was taken to the Salvation Army in Gulfport.

It is good to know that we have caring folks like the Scarborougs in our community.

Happy Thanksgiving to each and everyone of you.

Do not forget the Bay Rotary Club's project of collecting jackets, sweaters and coats to be distributed through the Waveland St. Vincent de Paul's Thrift Store.

The items may be dropped off at The Sea Coast Echo's office at 124 Court Street or at the Main Street United Methodist Church pastor's office on South Second Street.

Jay Fleuret, Rotary president, reports he would have no trouble placing 1,000 jackets, sweaters and coats to deserving residents, including many children.

The items will be cleaned courtesy of Burrow's Cleaners in Bay St. Louis.

We have already received some and are very grateful for those.

March 10, 1933
Last week I sat on a Special Task Force Committee targeting economic growth and job creation. We discussed ways to boost the U.S. economy and lower taxes for millions of Americans.

Wait a minute. Boost the economy and lower taxes. That doesn't sound all that bad.

Of course it doesn't, and it's the message conservatives have been voicing over and over for years—to introduce tax cuts which will spur the economy and halt government overspending.

Finally, many in Congress are beginning to listen to an angry, overtaxed America and are realizing the urgency of this issue.

Unfortunately, some of their proposed methods to cut taxes tend to limit the groups which would benefit from tax breaks, and their strategies fall short of the goal line in providing incentives for growth.

For instance, the most recent proposal to cut 5 percent from defense and give a $300 tax credit for each child under 18 in a family would help the middle-class, but also would miss a large percentage of the children living below the poverty level because it would be non-refundable. Why limit tax breaks to groups that meet certain criteria only? If we lower taxes, let's do it across the board. For the elderly, singles, married without children, poor and across the board.

Although I don't favor any more defense cuts until the agreed five-year, 25 percent slashing is met, the good in this proposal is that any defense cuts, should they occur, must be applied to reducing the tax burden and the deficit instead of feeding governmental and social programs which continue to enjoy taxpayer dollars for lunch.

What we need is an economic growth package which helps to create investment and jobs instead of creating new taxes.

We must lower taxes on labor. This effects the working man and woman. If we lower the marginal tax rate for working people and cut hiring cost, we increase jobs.

We must follow President Bush's proposal and lower capital gains taxes. Inflated capital gains taxes discourage investment and without investment, there is no economic growth.

We must place a ceiling on how much the government can spend. The more spent by Capitol Hill means that you pay higher taxes to foot the bills.

Also, we must overturn ludicrous practices in the Senate which require a simple majority (51 out of 100 votes) to raise taxes, but a super majority (60 votes) to cut taxes.

No more blind faith, no more wasteful spending, an economic strategy and reduced taxation are what I am dedicated to seeing through and what the American people deserve.

Fee-paid system brought into question in campaigns

At least in a few counties around the state, the antiquated (and expensive) fee-paid system for circuit and chancery clerks has been brought into question this election year.

Under the fee system, circuit and chancery clerks can pocket all the money left from fees they collect after paying their staff.

It's been outrageous for years that a number of clerks in Mississippi, the state with the lowest per capita income, are the highest paid local public officials in the nation, netting as much as $75,000 to $125,000 a year under the fee system.

Of course, most clerks report they net less than that. But, when you crank into the equation the factor that many clerks also have their wives and/or children on the payroll, it's impossible to arrive at a statewide average salary.

The clerks can quickly retort that it's the Legislature, not the clerks who are responsible for allowing the fee-paid system to remain in existence, long after its usefulness has ended. Significantly, the Legislature took sheriffs, constables and JPs off the fee system 20 years ago.

What the clerks don't care for the public to know is that they have kept the pressure on the Legislature—a very subtle kind of pressure—not to change the system.

Poetically, a state lawmaker who has tried unsuccessfully to pass a law to abolish the fee-paid system and put clerks on a fixed salary, is taking his battle to another arena—attempting to unseat a long-time circuit clerk who has thrived on the fee system.

State Rep. Mark Scarborough of Florence, is running as the Republican nominee in the Nov. 5 general election against incumbent Rankin County Circuit Clerk Philip Warren, the Democratic nominee, who has held the office the past 24 years.

Scarborough is pitching his campaign very heavily on his vow to eliminate the fee-paid system, contending that it has put at least $136,000 more in Warren's pocket the last four years than a reasonable salary for the job. "That's $136,000 which could have gone to the county general fund and used to buy school buses or build a bridge," Scarborough said.

In the last four years, Warren has netted $312,000 according to his reports to the Secretary of State's office, ranging from $68,000 to $77,000 a year. That's not counting $12,000 per year Warren paid his wife as a deputy clerk the past couple of years. (In 1983, he had two daughters on the payroll.)

Clerks can now get away with hiring relatives because they are under the fee system, Scarborough points out. "If clerks were all on a salary system, deputy clerks and other personnel in the clerk's office would be county employees and thus subject to 'nepotism laws,'" he added.

What most people don't know is that the only out-of-pocket expense the clerk has is the salaries and payroll taxes of his deputies and staff. The tab for all of the other expenses such as supplies and equipment, even health insurance for the clerk and staff, is picked up by the county.

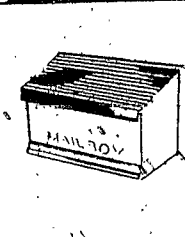

It is also little known, says Scarborough, that the biggest part of clerks' revenues comes directly out of the county treasury and not from fees charged for such services as marriage licenses, court case filings, document copies and the like.

When he introduced legislation the past four years to abolish the fee system, "we never had one circuit clerk come forward and testify for it," the lawmaker says. Every time his bill came up in the full committee, "clerks lined the walls in the committee room, intimidating members to back away from the bill."

Scarborough believes if he is elected, he and other clerks who want to see the fee system ended can crack the power the clerks' association has had over the Legislature and "get this obsolete system changed."

Circuit Clerk Estelle Pryor of Washington County, whose reelection is already assured, has openly joined the hopefully growing ranks of clerks who want to get off the fee system and on a fixed salary. She's asked the County Board of Supervisors to do it (at least than she now makes from fees) but the board is stumped as to its authority under existing laws.

Veteran Circuit clerk Lucy Carpenter of Marshall County said she had no objections to be put on a salary. Furthermore, she's even in favor of having one clerk of court for the county instead of two.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

It is good to know we have police around

Dear Editor,

One never knows when one will need help, and I was in that situation Saturday night.

On my way home from church with two lady friends, whom I was taking home, I had a flat tire on Dunbar Avenue.

Here we were, three women with a flat, and none of us with the ability to change a tire.

Some 100 vehicles passed us by, and we were getting a little nervous as it was already dark. Along came a Bay Police natrol car and stopped, and before we knew it another police vehicle arrived.

Bay officers Ronnie Fraley, Shane Corr and Robert Lee changed the tire for us.

Without these fine gentlemen we probably would still be stranded.

It is good to know we still have some nice policemen around.

Abolish 55 mph now

To the Editor,

I read the 55 mph article in your paper Sunday, Nov. 17. I read where the state was concerned about losing federal money for not enforcing the 55 mph speed limit on our highways including most four-lane highways.

Most of the people I talk to would like to see 55 mph abolished. Most of the people I talk to don't like the federal government telling us what to do on highways that were built with state money. Most of the people I talk to don't like the idea of being pulled over and threatened with arrest for simply moving with traffic.

There is an organization set up to fight this tyranny. It's called the NMA—National Motorist Association. Formerly known as the CRTL—Citizens for Rational Traffic Laws. The toll free phone number is 1-800-852-2785. I urge the readers to take advantage of their opportunity to fight this form of federal tyranny and to call the number right away.

I thank the Echo in advance for printing this letter as I am a regular subscriber.

Sincerely yours,

Hancock's foster children in need of Christmas presents

Dear Editor,

"Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year" are phrases that bring anticipation of happy and good times with family and friends. At the Hancock County Department of Human Services, we are all too familiar with the reality that not all children are so lucky.

This letter is to call your attention to the plight of the foster children of Hancock County. Are you aware that:

—The number of foster children in Hancock County has doubled in the last year?
—The state provides no financing for Christmas presents for these children?

Please help us assure that the abused and neglected children of Hancock County will have a special Christmas. These children are our responsibility, not someone else's. Any donation, large or small, will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Jean Pachter

"Toast to Coast" winners to be at Serenity Gallery

On Sunday, December 1, the nine winning entries of the "Toast to the Coast" juried art show will be on display at Serenity Art Gallery.

Serenity's owner, Jerry Dickson and the PTO of Coast Episcopal Schools will host a reception for the artists from 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to come and meet the artists.

Among the nine winners present will be three Bay St. Louis artists. John McDonald, the first place winner, Jeanne Kruse Warner and Joan Jackson, both special ribbon winners.

The Coast Episcopal School PTO sponsored show was the first juried art show in connection with their annual fundraiser "Toast of the Coast."

The works submitted by 32 artists were judged by Janet Gorzengo, a native of New York, who has a MFA from Yale University and presently on faculty at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Selected first place winner was McDonald with his work "McNeil, Mississippi." Second place went to Vernon Reinike "Picking Berries," and third place was awarded to David Harris with an untitled marsh scene. Receiving honorable mention was Vanda McCormick, "A Moment's Peace."

John McDonald

Special ribbons were presented to five artists: Warner, "Oscar Wilde Thing," Jackson, "Stork Angel," Patt Odom, "The Judgement," Antoinette Duchein La Grone, "Liminal Persona," and Sheila Springer, "Mississippi Morning."

Other artists juried into the show were Helen Curry Caire,

Anthony Eccles, Terry Blake Edwards, Nellie W. Evans, Kat Fitzpatrick, Geri Gremillion;

Jeanne Hardin, Mary Hardy, James Inabinet, Andrea Loiccano, Vickie Lever, Dorothy R. McLemore, Glenn Miller;

Alice Mosely, Claudia O'Connor, Barbara Quigley, Ben-

da J. Randolph, Joey Rice, Rhonda Iris Richmond;

Norma Seward, Fern Singer, Robert H. Songy, Sheila Springer and Elizabeth L. Vest.

The winning artwork will be exhibited for two weeks at Serenity Art Gallery at 126½ Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

ARTIN' ABOUT

Rumors, Brigadoon, Cradle Song on stage

EDITOR'S NOTE: Artin' About is a regular Sea Coast Echo feature that provides information about fine and performing arts events in the area and throughout the state. Submissions are welcome, and should be sent to Artin' About, Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Notices will be published on a space-available basis, with those events whose dates are closest to the publication date being given first consideration.

On stage:

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will hold auditions for its March 1992 production of Rumors December 1 and 2, 7 p.m., at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

Becky Rotundo, director, will be auditioning for 10 roles for this very fast, very funny comedy by Neil Simon. There are four male and four female roles for characters age 30 and over.

Two minor roles of police officers are needed to complete the cast. The roles could be either male or female. Local law enforcement officers are welcome to audition.

Additional help is also needed in the areas of makeup, set construction, prompting and general theater work.

For more information, call Becky Rotundo at 688-5328 (office) or 467-6371.

The Walter Anderson Players, Ocean Springs' community theater, will present the comedy The Cradle Song, directed by Mary Anderson Pickard, November 29 and 30, 8 p.m., at the Ocean Springs High School on 406 Holcomb Blvd.

Tickets for the play are $6 and may be purchased at the door.

In The Cradle Song, cloistered nuns take in an infant left in a basket at the convent gate. When the child is a young woman of 18, she leaves her foster parents to marry and move away.

The Walter Anderson Museum of Art and the Mississippi Arts Commission are sponsoring a performance Friday at the Museum of "The Fisherman and His Wife" by the Puppet Arts Theatre of Jackson.

Admission for Museum member families and individuals is 50 cents for children, $1 adults. For non-members admission is $2 children, $3 adults. Seating is limited.

For more information, call Martha Coughlan at 872-3164.

Against the wall: The ArtsAlliance of Jackson & Hinds County seeks entries for its 1992 Jubilee! JAM festival poster contest through January 3, 1991. Any artist 18 or older may enter. A cash prize of $1,000 will be awarded the winner.

To receive contest guidelines and an entry form, artists should call 960-1557 or write the ArtsAlliance, P.O. Box 17, Jackson, MS 39205.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BAY ST. LOUIS
PLANNING AND ZONING
COMMISSION

The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission solicits public comment concerning areas of the existing zoning ordinances currently under consideration for revision. The Commission wishes to add this citizen input to the recommendations expected shortly from Paul Buckhurst & Associates, consultants preparing recommendations for a new zoning ordinance for the City of Bay St. Louis. The present objective is to review regulations and procedures regarding the uses of private land either already established or likely to be proposed. At the outset, it is the intention of the Planning and Zoning Commission to recommend retention of existing rules and methods in cases where no specific reason exists to cause change.

The primary means of this public participation will be by written comments, only, which when received by the Planning and Zoning Commission, will be sorted by topic, reviewed and included into the Public Record of the Commission during the December 12, 1991 meeting. Deadline for receipt for the December 12 meeting will be noon December 5, 1991 in the office of the Building Inspector. These citizen recommendations will be considered by the Commission in forming the material to be sent to the Attorney for review prior to recommendation to the City Council for approval.

Examples of questions and concepts currently under review by the Commission and its consultants are available in the office of the Building Inspector, 1st floor, City Hall, Second St. and the Hancock County Library, 312 Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Turkey Mole Poblano turns leftovers into tasty meal

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Happy Thanksgiving! Let's feast, count our blessings, and spare a thought for those less fortunate; hope that you've done something to make their lot a little better, such as contributions of food to church, civic and other organizations dedicated to helping the needy, or perhaps contribution on an individual basis.

And, when our feasting is over, and after that so-delicious turkey sandwich on Thanksgiving night, lavishly spread with cranberry sauce and turkey dressing, (or that pork roast or ham or whatever else sandwich) our thoughts will turn to how best to use that leftover turkey or ham or pork roast or whatever!

One of my favorite ways to say "Bye-Bye-Birdie" to the turkey is the famed Mole (Molay) Poblano of Old Mexico, wonderfully spicy and "chocolat," considered the national dish. Like many another gourmet dish, the Mole came into being long years ago, out of necessity!

According to the oft-repeated legend, Mole Poblano was concocted when the nuns in a convent in Puebla, Mexico, received word that the most-exalted archbishop was on his way to visit the convent.

Dashing frantically about the kitchen and garden, the nuns gathered and mixed together everything in sight, chile, peppers, onions, tomatoes, spices and garlic, even the last of the chocolate went into the making of a heady sauce, simmered for a long time.

The local bishop lost out on a good roasted turkey dinner, for the good sisters sacrificed their only bird, cutting it into serving pieces, which they browned and simmered, then added to the sauce, and then cooked the whole business over a low fire until the turkey was tender.

The legend tells us that the Mole Poblano owes its spiciness to the fact that one of the young sisters scorched the mole sauce, and to hide this misfortune, she added the chocolate and spices and raisins and nuts to the sauce served the archbishop.

Of course, as with sauces the world over, the ingredients change from one place to another, to suit the taste of the cook and the area; some like it hotter than hot; others prefer a more lightly seasoned dish.

I've streamlined this dish; using leftover turkey. Slices or bite-size pieces serve equally well, with, of course, far less cooking time in the sauce. Here's:

TURKEY MOLE POBLANO

2 cups cooked turkey, bite-size pieces; or 6 to 8 slices cooked turkey breast or thigh
4 Tbsp. oil
1 cup chopped onion
1 medium clove garlic,

minced

2 cups canned tomatoes (drained canned tomatoes)

2 cups water

1 can (8 oz.) green chili salsa

1 oz. unsweetened chocolate

Dashes of cinnamon, cloves, pepper, salt to your taste

2 or 3 Tbsp. seedless raisin (as you like)

1 cup slivered almonds
Sauté the onions, garlic and almonds in the oil, stirring often, for 15 minutes or so. Add cinnamon, cloves, pepper, tomatoes, water, salsa and chocolate, and salt if you wish, stirring until the chocolate melts.

Remove from fire, and, according to your taste, mash all together well or puree in blender or processor—I like it somewhat chunky-textured, so I just cook it all down, as those nuns did so long ago, without recourse to machines.

Add the turkey slices or pieces to the mixture in the skillet and simmer for 10 minutes or so, or, if you prefer, place cubes or slices in a baking pan, pour the mole over, cover and bake in a 350 degree oven for 15 to 20 minutes. I like this served over rice, and garnished with avocado slices. Ole!

NICK'S HOUSE OF CATFISH

Bay High wins first two soccer games

Special to The Echo
BY ROSELIN WATSON

Monday night the Bay High Tiger Soccer team played their season opener against Resurrection High School of Pascagoula.

The first half of play was evenly matched as each team traded goals for a 3-3 half-time score.

The second half, Bay High came out, fired up, and ready to play, outscored Resurrection 5 to 0.

The final score was Bay High 8, Resurrection 3.

Scoring for Bay High were Shawn Keener, Danny Harvill, Greg Ellis, Joe Dobson, and Richard Watson.

Harvill's goal was scored from 35 yards out on an unassisted free kick. Assists were made by Michael Perniciaro, Shawn Keener, and Richard Watson.

Friday night, Bay High hosted the Harrison Central Red Rebels for their first district game of the season.

Harrison Central scored first, but Carlos Garcia's goal evened the match.

On a crossed ball from Joe Dobson, Shawn Keener scored to put the Tigers ahead.

The Red Rebels evened the score again.

A penalty kick by Joe Dobson put the Tigers ahead for the match.

In the second half, Joe Dobson scored with an assist from Richard Watson, then Watson added another goal on a free kick.

Bay High 5, Harrison Central 3 was the final score.

Bay High's defense played very well in both games giving the offense possession time and opportunities to score.

Anchoring the Tiger defense are Brennan Compretta, Jason Loiacano, Danny Harvill, and keeper Lee Murphree.

Bay High's winning run temporarily halted Monday night in Gulfport when the Tigers lost 3-1 to the Admirals.

Bay High could not find the goal during the first half despite numerous attempts. The half ended with both teams scoreless.

The Admirals opened the second half with a goal to start the scoring.

Answering the Admirals' goal, Tiger Richard Watson took the ball from midfield, dribbled past the defenders to the end-line. Drawing the Admiral keeper to the right, he laid the ball back to Joseph Dobson, who put it into the net to score.

Play continued with scoring attempts by both teams. The Admirals managed another score and then put the game away with their third and final goal.

Bay High stands at 1-1 in district play and 2-1 overall. They host the St. John Eagles Tuesday, Dec. 3, at J.D. McCollough Stadium at 6:30 p.m.

BHS players Greg Ellis and Shawn Keener in recent soccer action.

Tigers lose to Greyhounds

The Bay High boys varsity basketball team lost to Oceans Springs Monday, 74-66.

Leading scorers for the night were Kevin Hodges - 23; James Ricks - 14; Russell Fairconnetue - 9; and Tripp Whavers - 8.

Tristian Robertson made two steals against the Greyhounds and 18 rebounds were shared by Brian Necaie - 7, Russell Fairconnetue - 7, and James Ricks - 7.

The Tigers stand 2-4 overall and 0-2 in conference.

Hancock blasts E. Central

The Hancock High School basketball boys varsity team beat East Central, 74-62, Tuesday. The win brought them to 5-1 overall and 2-1 in division.

Leading scorers were Tracy Lee, who is averaging 23 points per game, and Issac Thomas at 22 points per game.

Lee is rated third highest scorer on the coast and Thomas is ranked fourth highest scorer.

HHS also boasts of female basketball players Stacy Ladner with 16 points per game average and Leah Smith at 15 per game average.

The Hawks travel to St. Martin to play on Tuesday.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. The word for this week is to go fast like a turtle to your neighborhood hardware store and make some purchases. The items that you will need are lower unit grease, oil, soap, wax and rags.

The reason for these items is that this would be an excellent time to change the oil in the lower unit of your outboard and to give your equipment a good once-over with the soap, water and wax. A good lubrication of all the working parts of your equipment would also be a good idea.

The fish are making like live Thanksgiving turkeys this week and are making themselves very scarce.

The heavy amount of rain that we had last week seems to have muddied the water and driven the fish off their regular feed. Either that, or they have become very weight conscious, with Christmas and all that coming up, and have decided to go on some kind of stupid diet. In any case, no one I talked to this week felt that the fish were very hungry.

The only reports that I got of fish were from the Louisiana marsh and by the train bridge in Bay St. Louis.

For those of you hardy fishermen who have a hull that is seaworthy enough to cross the Sound, you need to go to Bayou Biloxi.

Fish the small cuts and bayous that branch off Bayou Biloxi as well as any dams that you can find back up in the marsh. The reds are biting in this area on the gold Johnson Sprite.

A few reports came in of some really big specks being caught in the marsh using the same gold Johnson Sprite that is producing the reds.

If you intend to land your boat at a dock in Mississippi be sure that your catch is Mississippi legal, as Louisiana legal is of a smaller size than Mississippi legal. Don't ruin your fun after a long trip—reds, 22 inches; specks, 14 inches.

The fish caught near the Bay St. Louis train bridge were caught near the wooden bumpers out where the bridge opens for big boats to pass from one side of the bridge to the other.

The fish caught were on the bottom and they were mostly sheephead and drum. There were a few croakers, white trout, flounders and a couple of nice reds that were reported caught on the bottom in his same area.

All of the fish were caught on dead shrimp about six inches above a one-half ounce sinker. The way to fish this rig around the pilings is to drop it straight down—do not cast it—and let it hit the bottom.

Once the sinker hits the bottom take the slack out of your line till the line becomes right. The idea is to slowly raise and lower your rod tip so that your sinker will just touch the bottom.

By slowly raising and lowering the sinker off the bottom, you will be doing two things: you will be moving your bait and making the fish think he absolutely, positively has to take a bite of the bait; secondly, the slow movement will allow you to feel when the fish has taken the bait into his mouth.

This is an especially important technique when you are fishin' for sheephead as they seem to like to slowly suck the bait off the hook leaving you to have bad words to say about those uncooperative fish.

Don't forget, if you fish by the pilings, you need to have about three feet of wire leader on the end of your line as barnacles can cut mono, line like crazy.

I cannot finish the article this week without singing great praise for the "green men with the flashing blue lights." The green men went out at night, in the cold, and made an arrest of the people who have been placing a gill net completely across Bayou Boland.

The turtle humbly says thanks for a job well done.

The "green men with the flashing blue lights" have a hard, relatively thankless job.

Hopefully our new governor will remove some of their problems and allow the "green men in the field" to do their job.

This week's wonderful wise words: There are no outboard repair shops out in the Sound.

Check that motor out good, turtle.

Second place

Hancock High School varsity cheerleaders placed first runner-up in the 13th annual Mississippi State Fair Cheerleading Competitions. The ten-member squad presented a routine of cheers, stunts, gymnastics and dance and competed with squads from Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee. Back row from left are Miku Cranmer, Lenny Lacoste, Jennifer Richard and Renee Caston; front row, Shenea Ladner, Sarah Ladner, Lisa Bell, captain Carva Latino, Lisa Moran and co-captain Robin Skipper. Sponsor is Kay Lovelace.

Bay Youth Basketball to register

The Bay Youth Basketball Association will hold its final registration Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Bay Middle School Gymnasium.

Boys and girls between the ages of seven and 12 are eligible to participate.

Registration is $10. Any persons interested in volunteering for coaches, referees, scorekeepers or concessionaires may contact league director Robert "Chops" Williams at 467-9725.

Big B tells sales, profits

Big B Inc. announced that sales and profits have continued their upward trends. Net income for the 38 weeks ended Oct. 26, 1991, reached $3,279,000 or $.43 per share, versus a prior year loss of $3,920,000 or $.52 per share. For 12 week third quarter, Big B earned $393,000 of $.05 per share versus a loss of $959,000 or $.13 per share in the prior year.

For the 38 weeks, the company achieved record sales of $347,924,000, up 6.3 percent from $327,347,000 in the prior year. For the most recent 12 weeks sales reached a record $108,425,000, up 5.1 percent from $103,208,000 in the prior year.

These sales were achieved despite Big B currently operating 304 stores versus 311 during the third quarter of the prior year.

During the third quarter a new store was opened in Prattville, Ala. During the fourth quarter two new stores are planned to open in Fairhope, Ala. and Tallapoosa, Ga.

Big B's board of directors announced a $.04 quarterly dividend which will be payable Dec. 20, 1991, to shareholders of record on Dec. 6, 1991.

FEAR ALMOST COST ME EVERYTHING I LOVE!

Like most people my age, I knew all the warning signs of cancer, but fear kept me from going in for a checkup. I was more afraid of knowing the truth than I was of cancer itself.

Now, I feel so foolish. My procrastination and fear almost cost me my life and everything I love. But I was lucky.

My doctor at Slidell Memorial Hospital, once I did go in, carefully explained that early detection and prompt treatment offer the best hope for a full recovery. Cancer, if ignored and untreated, will continue to invade and destroy healthy tissue, increasing your risk and the possibility of complications.

The Cancer Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital uses a multidisciplinary approach to bring together all the people and resources needed to successfully diagnose and treat cancer of any kind.

Skilled physicians, specially-trained nurses and experienced staff utilize the newest, most advanced technology and techniques to provide services and programs designed to make living with cancer easier on both patients and their families.

If you would like to know more about preventing, detecting and treating cancer, please call or write today.

Girl Scouts' Giving Tree helps needy

The Bay-Waveland Girl Scout Neighborhood will decorate the "Giving Tree" during the annual Red Ribbon Christmas Parade, December 7, beginning at 3 p.m. The "Giving Tree" will be located on the lawn of the Hancock County Courthouse.

Each Scout will place an ornament on the tree and a gift for the Fire Department Doll and Toy Fund in the Christmas Gift House.

According to Gayle Eagan, neighborhood leader, "This is our way of contributing to the holiday spirit of the community. We invite parents and children coming to view the parade and enjoy festivities to also bring an ornament and a small gift to share with those less fortunate."

For more information on the Fire Department Doll and Toy Fund call 467-4736.

County presents old-time Christmas celebration

Hancock County is proud to present its second annual Red Ribbon Christmas celebration.

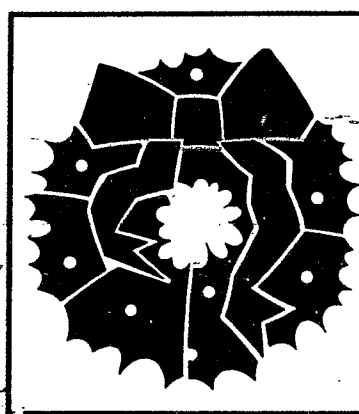

This activity originated to demonstrate community spirit and unity, as well as to entice residents to shop at home. Many activities have been planned to show just what is available in Hancock County. The first such activity is a gift certificate swap. Registration boxes will be placed at participating merchants' businesses for customers to register for a $25 gift certificate from another participating merchant.

The placement of these boxes in a different merchants' place of business is to try to cross-reference the area—give shoppers a reason to venture outside their normal shopping locations to see what Hancock County has to offer that they previously have gone outside of the area to purchase.

Many participants have special activities and events planned throughout the month of December. Seymour's Jewelry and Gifts in the Market Town Shopping Center in Bay St. Louis will have holiday discounts available to each and every shopper. Be sure to stop by to see what goodies they have to offer.

Saturday, Dec. 7, 11 a.m., Santa will be visiting at Bookends on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis. There will be story telling and refreshments will be served. Bookends will also host an open house Saturday, Dec. 14 with special activities throughout the day. Santa will be very busy this season as he visits with children at several different locations throughout the area. He will be at Wal-Mart on Hwy. 90 in Waveland on the 6th, 7th, 13th and 14th of December to talk to the children for last minute requests.

Wal-Mart will also have special holiday hours and moonlight madness sales for the holiday shopper. Be sure to check with Wal-Mart for more details!

Several community activities are planned to provide fun and entertainment for the entire family. There will be parades, trolley rides, open houses, and home tours, guaranteed to please everyone.

Come out and join in the fun and help us spread a little Christmas Cheer!

PRC offers night classes at Bay High

Pearl River Community College will offer night classes in Bay St. Louis during spring semester, according to PRC's admissions office.

Registration will be at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 7, 1992 in the Marvin R. White Coliseum on the PRC campus in Poplarville. Classes will meet from 6 to 9 p.m. beginning the week of Jan. 20 at Bay High School. Final exams will be taken the week of May 11, 1992.

Space station participants

Richard Soldine and Kristie Pearce, eighth grade students at Bay High, attended Student Space Station at the Davis Planetarium in Jackson last summer. They participated in separate space missions, with training consisting of classes in chemistry, physics, engineering, trigonometry, microbiology and other math/science-related subjects. They also took part in adventures in space observation, scuba diving to simulate weightlessness, and callisthenics. (Photo by Freda Cameron, Bay High School)

St. Stanislaus names Senior of the Month

Michael Davidge has been named Senior of the Month for October at St. Stanislaus High School.

This special award, which is voted on by the faculty members at St. Stanislaus, recognizes seniors who display in a unique manner the character traits of sincerity, enthusiasm, family spirit, involvement, observance and responsibility.

Davidge is currently vice-president of the Key Club, an officer of SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk), and Student Council executive vice-president.

He plays varsity football, runs track, is a weightlifter and is on the swim team. Davidge has been a manager of the varsity basketball team.

During his past five years at St. Stanislaus Davidge has been a Pepsi Student of the Month twice, and as a border in the dormitory he received the Character Cup and the Dorm Award.

Davidge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidge of Baton Rouge, La.

Study skills

Bay Middle School teachers (from left) Kathy Chapman (fourth grade), Diane Sprayberry (fifth grade) and Chapter I counselor Barbara Cropp recently presented a program titled "Study Skills: How to Get the Homework Done" to parents of Chapter I students. One mother attending the program commented, "It taught us that we had to be consistent with our children in getting them to do their homework." For information about Chapter I, a federally funded program to help students enhance their learning skills and knowledge, call 466-4913. (Photo by T.H. (Doc) Loups)

OLA holds Big Sister-Little Sister ceremony

October was a special month for Our Lady Academy because the seniors welcomed the freshmen into high school with a traditional "Big Sister/Little Sister" ceremony.

The 1992 senior class initiated the activities by serving the class of 1995 a pizza lunch. At this time the seniors and freshmen got acquainted. During the next week, after choosing their little sisters by random drawing of numbers, the seniors "dressed up" the freshmen and paraded them around the campus.

The activities ended with a Big Sister/Little Sister Liturgy in Our Lady of the Gulf Church, with Father Cuddy Cuthbert as celebrant.

Jennifer Carter, senior class president, gave the senior address stressing friendship and love and lit the friendship candle placed on the altar.

Then the little sisters were called individually to the altar where their candles were lit by their big sister. Christine Seither, freshman class president, responded for her class.

The OLA Senior Class of 1992 includes Bridgette Dugas, Jennifer Heugan, Casie Hille, Christina Marsh, Konnis Merigan, Becky Monti, Jennifer Richard, Amber Turfitt, Kim Weinstein and Jeanne Williams, all from Bay St. Louis.

Also, Jennifer Carter, Day Hays, Kandi Heim, Jenny Hockert, Karen Kohl, Kristin Krogstad, India McDonald, Kellie Ryan, Tami Satchfield, Jessica Taylor, Khuyen Tran, and Vanessa Weatherspoon from Pass Christian.

Leigh Chapman, Brittany Ellis and Kristen Tusa from Waveland.

Bethany Burrow and Shelly Cuevas from Pearlington; Alyson Cousins from Long Beach; Stephanie Findley from Biloxi; and Tara Johnston from Kiln.

The freshmen from the Class of 1995 include Shalon Bradley, Nicole Christenberry, Anne Courge, Elizabeth Dillenkoff, Hannah Erwin, Brandi Everett, Ellen Kergosien, Kara Kortman, Julie Ladner, Lisa Pope, Megan Prats, Christine Seither, Betty Sprouse, and Bernice Sy, all from Bay St. Louis.

Nikki Chapman, Jonna Ellis, Amie Geary, Heidi Kerbl, Loren Stahl, Mary West and Jennifer Thomas, all from Waveland.

See the world while earning USM degree

The University of Southern Mississippi's College of International and Continuing Education will offer several study-abroad programs next summer located in the Caribbean, Mexico, Australia, Europe and Japan.

The college's Center for International Education has organized seven 1992 programs, which will provide opportunities to earn college credits while living and studying in interesting and historic parts of the world.

The CIE programs include: An Australian Expedition from May 10 to June 1; Austrian Studies Program in Vienna June 15 through July 8;

British Studies Program in London July 8 to Aug. 10 (with more than 30 courses to choose from); a Caribbean Studies Program May 12 through June 1;

French Language Program May 31 to July 5; Spanish Language Program May 15 through June 13; and a Japanese Studies Program May 13 through June 1.

The programs offer up to six hours of credit in a number of disciplines. The Spanish language program also offers a three-hour course in Cuernavaca, Mexico, at Christmas.

For more information, contact USM's College of International and Continuing Education at 266-4344.

SSC's Braud named chamber representative

Martin Braud

Martin Braud, a senior at St. Stanislaus, is the school's representative to the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

Braud is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Braud of Waveland.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta (a math honor society), the Spanish National Honor Society and the Key Club. Last year he received a plaque for three consecutive quarters with a 4.0 average.

Braud also plays on the St. Stanislaus soccer team.

New OLA choral class

Our Lady Academy's new choral music class is practicing Christmas music as well as singing and playing instruments at OLA's prayer services and liturgies. Joy Mehrtens, OLG parish music ministry director, teaches a voice class to ninth grade and a choral music class to grades 10-12 from both OLA and St. Stanislaus. Representatives of the two classes are (from left): first row — Max Paillet and Ms. Mehrtens; second row — Erica Lizana, Christina Marsh, Erick Kliebert and Swanna McNair. (OLA photo)

Diamondhead Dairy Queen continues Adopt-A-School

When Bob Jean and Steve Kehper purchased the Dairy Queen of Diamondhead from Cliff Russell, they were eager to continue the adoption of the Hancock County School District that Russell initiated.

Owning skating rinks in New Orleans and being actively involved as Adopt-A-School sponsors in the New Orleans area has given them the experience necessary to implement new programs in the Hancock County School District.

Kehper said, "Everyone benefits in the Adopt-A-School Program: the school is a winner, the student is a winner and Dairy Queen of Diamondhead is a winner."

"Our involvement in the Hancock County School System started with sponsorship of the 1991-92 school calendar. A new program we are offering is a fund raising activity for any school system in the area that is interested in participating."

"Dairy Queen of Diamondhead will donate $3 to the school of your choice for every Ice Cream Cake sold during the month of November. Also, 3,000 achievement awards have been given to the Hancock County School District.

"Each Achievement Award will entitle the recipient to receive a free Ice Cream Sundae for their outstanding efforts and achievements. These awards will be distributed at the principals' and/or teachers' discretion."

Jean said, "In this program we support the school system, give incentives to students for their efforts and in turn the school system supports Dairy Queen. It's a win, win, win situation."

Kehper and Jean hope to encourage other local businesses in the area to examine how they can best incorporate a program that will service the Hancock County School System and themselves.

Each program will benefit future generations which will benefit the future economy of Hancock County. All parties involved in the Adopt-A-School Program benefit.

ANOTHER SATISFIED CUSTOMER FROM MOSS POINT, MS

Sheila Dailey and son, John are shown accepting delivery of their new '92 Geo Tracker from salesman Jim Prater.

PCHS receives MPF grant

Pass Christian High School has been awarded a $332 grant by the Mississippi Power Foundation to help fund student science demonstration squads.

The grant will help pay for safety equipment such as goggles, rubber gloves and lab coats that students will use when conducting demonstrations.

Three squads, each comprised of four students, will learn how to correctly and safely conduct certain science demonstrations.

The squads will be coordinated by Janet Young, a 26-year science teacher certified in chemistry, physics, physical science and mathematics.

How to cook a turkey

As told by second grade students

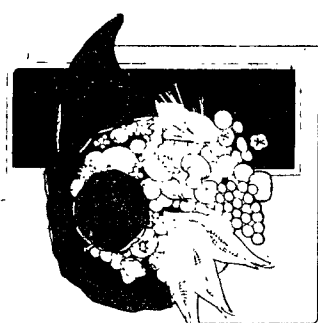

Charles B. Murphy Elementary

I know how to bake a turkey. You put it in the oven and let it sit for eiate minites. When eiate minites are up you take it out of the oven and put dassing on the top of the turkey. Now put lettuce on the side of the place. Then your done. Oh and then you eat the turkey.

Jeanelle Sonnier

You haf to put it in a pan and bake it. And you can put some gresse in it. You can bake the gresse with the turkey and dressing.

Theresa Meyers

First you pluck the turkey. Then you put salt on it. Then you put dressing on it. Then you put butter on it. Then you check to see if its tender. Then you pot grease on it. Then you put it in the oven. And when its done you eat it.

Samantha Breshears

To make a turke you may need stuffing and dressing. You need to check it to make shore it is not brown. If you don't check it. It will be brown. Then you will take it out.

Ashley Bruns

You put buter on the turkey and salt. Thin you put it in the oven. Thin you take the turkey out the oven. Thin you got you a turkey.

Tegan DeStarkey

First you fix it up by puting butter and season then you put it in the oven. When the turkey is done you check it. Then you bake it when it is done you cut it. Then you baseit than you put it in a roaster. That how you bake a turkey.

Kevin Hill

First you buy the turky, then you pluk it. Stek it in a roster. Put salt and gravy. Then stek it in the uvn.

Rickey Binet

First the turkey is raw. Then you put salt. Then you put it in the oven. When its done you take it out. I tear all the feath-ers off of the turkey. Then I eat it.

Kelvin Burnett

You put it in a pan. Than you put it to 50 dugeese. Than you put peper on the turkey than you put salt. Than you put grave. Than you bake it.

Kelly Lane

You have to make your stufin first. You get your vejatables you need to stuf the turkey. Then cook the turkey 4 or 5 ors. Then take it out.

Jennifer Clover

You put it in the oven. You let it stay in the oven for 8 minutes. Then you take it out and put dressing on it.

Tanya McArthur

North Bay Elementary

The ressepy. Put the turkey in oven. And then put salt and pepper on it. And get the oven warm. Now take it out. Make wholes in it. Then put some garlick in it. And then put your turkey on the table. And then dekerate for Thanksgiving. And call your family to eat with you.

Davon Breland

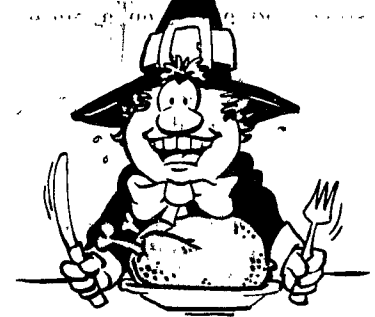

My own resapeae. Once thar was a big humungus turkey. And a big humungus pot. And a big humungus spoon. And in the pot thar was some hot grease. And when that turkey was in that hot grease he said in his mined, "Some botty better turn off this hot grease or I will scream."

But know botty was thar. The people that was not thar names were, Elisabeth and Michael. Thay had left that little por turkey still cooking.

When thay got back they looked at the turkey and the turkey hallered, "HELP. HELP" and got up out of the pot. The pot fell over on to the grouned but he was gone out of the door some where else and wile he was running he was saying, "Help some botty help! Some botty help! I need help! I have been burnt from some grease at some ones house."

You are required to mail or hand deliver a copy of a written Answer either admitting or denying each allegation in the Complaint to Jennifer A. West, Plaintiff's Attorney, whose address is P.O. Drawer 100, Gulfport, Mississippi 39502.

YOUR ANSWER MUST BE MAILED OR DELIVERED NOT LATER THAN THIRTY DAYS AFTER THE 28th DAY OF November, 1991, WHICH IS THE DATE OF THE LAST PUBLICATION OF THIS SUMMONS. IF YOUR ANSWER IS NOT SO MAILED OR DELIVERED, A JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT MAY BE ENTERED AGAINST YOU FOR THE MONEY OR OTHER RELIEF DEMANDED IN THE COMPLAINT.

You must also file the original of your Answer with the Clerk of this Court within a reasonable time thereafter.

Issued under my hand and the seal of said Court, this 18th day of November, 1991.
